Add Travel to Your Rewards & Recognition Program

Times have changed. Make sure your employee rewards and recognition program stays meaningful by adding an experiential, non-cash, tangible benefit like travel. Travel is the ultimate personal reward for so many because people see it as a “want,” not a “need.” Choosing their destination personalizes the reward even more. They remember an incredible travel experience far longer and with deeper positive feeling than a relatively ordinary purchase made with a gift card. And that positive feeling extends to those who recognized their hard work and dedication with travel rewards.

What's Different About Switchfly?

Switchfly is a pioneering travel experience platform for making memorable moments. Switchfly's purpose-built, direct-to-book platform elevates the consumer travel experience. Travel is about more than much-needed time to recharge. Travel rewards give employees a chance to expand their horizons and make memories with people they love.

With Switchfly you can offer experiences tailored to your employees' individual interests, such as outdoor activities and cultural events. Our global network of travel suppliers includes flights, hotels, car rentals, and activities. Switchfly creates a modern, simple booking experience, and end-to-end support for a memorable travel experience. Are you ready to provide more meaningful rewards to your employees?
